Measure Aims To Bar Suits Against U S for Recovery as Result of Devaluation

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON June 28—An administration bill to deny holders of government securities the right to claim damages in court actions as result of dollar devaluation was introduced today by Chairman Steagall of the house banking committee

The legislation was requested yesterday by President Roosevelt in a special message to congress

Steagall said the measure would be taken up by the banking committee on Monday and reported to the house after possibly a couple of days hearing

Expects Clear Sailing

There won't be any trouble in the committee or house either I'm sure he added

His bill would take from holders of bonds notes certificates of indebtedness treasury bills and other government securities which contain the gold clause the privilege of suing the government on the ground that devaluation of the gold dollar had harmed them

It also would give holders of securities which contain the gold clause until Sept 1 1935 to exchange them for other securities which do not have the gold clause

The gold clause is a promise to pay off in gold

The bill declares that no holder of any of the money or securities of the United States has suffered any damage because of measures heretofore taken by the government in its monetary program

Chairman Fletcher of the senate banking committee said he would call a meeting soon to consider the special message sent to congress yesterday Attorney General Cummings disclosed that a draft of the proposed measure already had been prepared

ABEL REVIEWS NEW ASPECTS OF RELIEF HERE

Finds Only Few Families Unable To Handle Cash Under New Plan

ADDRESSES KIWANIANS

22 Per Cent of Families Now on Rolls Will Be Permanent Charges

The number of families on relief in Marion [illegible] [illegible] employable [illegible] large [illegible] because of an increase in private employment

Less than one per cent of the relief families have failed [illegible] the [illegible] to show [illegible] ability to [illegible] relief instead of orders for food and purchases

Twenty two per cent of the families now on relief do not have an employable member In other words about 503 families must be taken care of by direct relief because they will be unable to sustain themselves when federal or private employment is made available

In a one year period ended June 1 relief expenditures in Marion county amounted to $14[illegible],000 in cash for direct relief and federal works $215,000 worth of foods and merchandise and $25,000 in clothing and other articles manufactured in various parts of the state by relief client

Abel Talks at Luncheon

These statements and others regarding the handling of relief in Marion county were presented to Marion Kiwanians yesterday at their weekly luncheon in Hotel Marion by John Abel county relief director It was Mr Abel's second talk to the club on the handling of relief

Commenting on the cash relief program started on a small scale in April and increased since that time Mr Abel said relief families have shown gratifying cooperation in making their dollars go farther adding that 80 per cent of this county relief is now handled on a cash basis

Under the cash program families receive an average of $25 a month and non family persons an average of $12 a month he said These amounts he added are far below the budgets or estimated amounts required by relief families to cover all of their expenses The average budget for a family of six he said is $12.03 a week but under the present setup there is not sufficient money available to meet these budgets

Although relief allowances would nearly have to be doubled to meet the budget Marion county ranks second from the top in the amount of money received each month for each person on relief he said He added that Cuyahoga county is the only one in which a larger per capita monthly amount of relief is granted

Rates For Workers

Regarding the new federal works program under which an effort will be made to have one employable person in each relief family placed on a job Mr Abel said in Marion county the maximum amount of monthly earnings under the pro[illegible]

Democrats Aim to Ban G O P. "Budget Balancing" Series of Levies

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON June 28 Gag rule procedure to kill off unwanted amendments to President Roosevelt's tax the wealth program was considered today by house leaders

They spoke of such drastic action to block moves to write in what some Republicans called budget balancing taxes and to repeal many existing levies Even a tariff fight appeared in prospect if the new legislation were opened for amendment

Although the administration's proposed bill was still in nebulous form house leaders were determined to try to limit it only to taxes on inheritances gifts corporate incomes and individual incomes over $1,000,000

To Seek Agreement First

They will seek an agreement to this end among Democrats on the house ways and means committee Later the gag rule may be proposed if they believe it necessary to prevent changes on the house floor

Chairman Doughton Democrat of North Carolina and Democratic members of the ways and means committee conferred for three hours yesterday with Secretary Morgenthau and other treasury officials but no conclusions were reached on [illegible] tax rates

The only definite decision made Doughton said was that the President's tax suggestions require most careful [illegible] procedure in drafting a bill Also because of the [illegible] work necessary it was agreed that public hearings on the measure could not begin before July 8

By The Associated Press

MUIRFIELD June 28 Alfred Perry 30 year old British Ryder Cup team player won the British Open golf championship today with final rounds of 67 and 72 for a record equalling total of 283

Perry's finishing rounds collectively representing five strokes under par and made in the face of a wind that at times approached gale force brought to an end the meteoric reign of Henry Cotton winner at Sandwich a year ago Cotton completed the 72 hole grind over the Muirfield course with rounds of 76 and 75 for an aggregate of 293

Misses Putt

Perry who previously had failed to finish in the money in the open championship had a 1 foot putt on the final green to set a new low score for the tournament He putted briskly for the cup and a birdie three but the ball slid inches past As it was he tied the winning record score of 283 hung up by Gene Sarazen in 1932 and duplicated by Cotton last year at Sandwich

NORWALK, O., June 28—Edward B. Lamphier, [illegible], held on a first degree murder charge in the slaying of Mrs. Katherine Wilde, 59-year-old widow, asserted in an interview last night: "I maintain my innocence and will do so until the end."

Concerning fingerprints found on a window through which police believe the woman's assailant entered her home, which officials said correspond with Lamphier's, the suspect said he went to the house soon after the body was found Tuesday afternoon

"I was at the Wilde home the day the body was found," he said "Like the neighbors and relatives, I went through the house. I may have left some fingerprints just as probably some others did, without knowing that I did.

"I went there because I was a friend of the family and had known the family for 20 years I maintain my innocence and I will do so until the end"

Male Suspect Told Friend He Was Going Out With Lawyer Named Dickinson Who Had Money.

BROKE ENGAGEMENT

Girl Hunted by Police Checked Slain Attorney's Case at Hotel After Body Was Found.

By The Associated Press

DETROIT June 28 Police investigating the slaying here of Howard Carter Dickinson New York attorney and nephew of Charles Evans Hughes intensified their search today for William Lee Ferris reported to have told an acquaintance that he was going out with a lawyer named Dickinson a guy with plenty of money

A hunt was in progress simultaneously for a woman who checked the slain attorney's brief case at his hotel 1½ hours after his body was found in a Detroit park

Police said Ferris had been missing since he checked out of his hotel at 11 a m yesterday shortly before Dickinson's body was identified Ferris had lived there three weeks they said

Ohio Officers Asked To Help

New York and Ohio officers were asked to aid in the search for Ferris when police said they learned from Andrew Snyder he had an engagement with Ferris Wednesday night but that Ferris broke it because he was going out with a lawyer from the Book Cadillac (hotel) named Dickinson a guy with plenty of money

Dickinson was believed to be carrying several thousand dollars when he left his hotel His wife in a telephone conversation with Detroit police said Dickinson had informed her he had several thousand dollars with him

The New York counsellor whose mother's sister was married to Chief Justice Hughes came here Monday on business reliably reported to be in connection with the estate of the late William H Yawkey one time wealthy lumberman and sportsman who once owned an interest in the Detroit baseball club

In Detroit Several Times

Inspector John I Navarre said he had learned Dickinson had made several visits here in connection with a claim projected by Arthur Carmichael Detroit attorney in behalf of his foster sister Mrs Elizabeth Carmichael Witherspoon against the Yawkey estate Carmichael declined to discuss the claim publicly or comment on published reports that Mrs Witherspoon's claim was based on the contention that she is a daughter of the late lumberman His estate, once reported valued at $40,000,000 was inherited by Thomas Yawkey owner of the Boston Red Sox

Dr Robert Kallman Wayne county medical examiner said he believed Dickinson was slain by some one he knew after examination of the attorney's coat with his hotel key in a pocket found two miles from the park where his body had been dumped on a road side apparently from a moving car Dr Kallman said the manner in which two bullets entered his body one through the head and the other through the chest indicated that the slayer carefully fired a second shot to make sure Dickinson was dead He said either would have caused death

Believed Killed by Robbers

Police officials said they were working on the theory that Dickinson met death at the hands of holdup men. They said it was possible he may have known his slayer, at least casually.

Detective Chief Fred W. Frahm said the check room attendant, Miss Ruth Cronin, who received Dickinson's brief case from the woman said she recalled the case because the case was not properly labeled The woman handed her the case through a crowd about the check room window, and she did not recall any identifying characteristics, she told police.

The bag contained papers, but nothing which appeared to be a clue to the slaying, police said.

His body was found about [illegible] a. m.

40 Years To Worry

(Will Rogers Special)

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., June 28—One thing you got to say for an administration that tries out a lot of plans, some of 'em are apt to be pretty good

Now this one that broke out yesterday where they help out these young folks, that sounds awful good, Course I look for bountiful editorial condemnation, for it's going to cost money

But if you help out the young folks up to 20, and the old ones over 60, that only gives a fellow a little stretch in between of about 40 years where he has to do any worrying for himself (or herself, as the sex may be)

If we can keep the young happy, and the old satisfied when all the middle aged have to look out for is [illegible] automobile drivers [illegible]

New Game Law Cares for Emergencies in Wildlife

Note In the following article James W Stuler chief of the bureau of education for the Ohio division of conservation explains the effect of amendments to the conservation law made by the recent session of the state legislature

BY JAMES W STUBER
(Written for the Associated Press)

COLUMBUS O With the enactment of [illegible] bill [illegible] which gives the state [illegible] council [illegible] to regulate [illegible] seasons [illegible] division of conservation [illegible] sportsmen's organizations [illegible] cut the [illegible] that [illegible] progress [illegible] conservation of game and wildlife and that emergencies can be met when [illegible] arise in behalf of wildlife [illegible]

Heretofore the division of conservation has had to wait for the enactment of laws by the legislature before regulations or bag limits could be changed [illegible] it was that the division of conservation was unable to correct many situations

Protects Spawning

For instance bass do [illegible] spawn according to law—they spawn when nature's instinct tells them the time is right For years the law on the statute books of Ohio provided a closed season in the inland district from May 1 to June 30

Although [illegible] some years bass were still spawning up until July 1 in some parts of the state and in others bass had completed their spawning operations by June 1

Dr Raymond C Osburn head of the department of zoology Ohio State university has long advocated a flexible law whereby the conservation council could promulgate regulations governing the spawning season and bag limits according to climatic conditions and spawning periods as determined by the bureau of scientific research and the bureau of fish propagation

If bass were through spawning by June 1 in the southern part of the state the season could be open for fishing If in some years the spawning season for bass was late and bass were still on the nests after June 16 the council could keep the season closed until the young fry had been hatched This would save millions of bass in Ohio waters Under the new law the conservation council will have this authority

Cares for Squirrels

Last year complaints came from all parts of the state because the season on squirrels which opens Sept 15 was too early Sportsmen and game protectors reported the killing of baby squirrels and of nursing mother fox or gray squirrels The conservation division was powerless to act The new law will [illegible] to se[illegible] [illegible] a time [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] particularly [illegible]

[illegible] laws pertaining [illegible] [illegible] of wild[illegible] [illegible] from year to year and often [illegible] state law The [illegible] federal re[illegible] [illegible] time for [illegible] [illegible] and may be [illegible] fail to act [illegible] such as [illegible] the council [illegible] authority to [illegible] in any section where [illegible]

Under the new law the council [illegible] of repeating [illegible] found the [illegible] measure [illegible] three [illegible] the feder[illegible] [illegible] In [illegible] when there is a [illegible] rabbits [illegible] has occurred in the past three years the council [illegible] the season under the new law It was powerless during the past three years to do anything [illegible] although rabbits were very scarce in many sections

Real Step Forward

Congress [illegible] not pass game laws [illegible] ability to make regulations on migratory game is given to the U S department of agriculture through the bureau of biological survey This authority is placed in the hands of the officials who make a constant study of wildlife conservation problems This bill was endorsed not only by the conservation council but by the League of Ohio Sportsmen the Izaak Walton League and the Save Outdoor Ohio council and has met with approval by the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation the Ohio State grange by the Ohio Hotels association and other groups The bill also was favored by Gov Martin L Davey as a conservation measure requested by the various sportsmen's groups statewide

This bill however does not give the conservation council authority to declare an open season on quail or other wildlife not on the game list

The McGregor Emmons bill which went into effect June 6 giving the conservation council full control of all hunting and fishing license revenue so that it never again can be diverted for other purposes and so that it will be appropriated to the council in its entirety are two measures that will put Ohio in the front rank with other states in behalf of the wildlife conservation program

The rear [illegible] complained of [illegible] failure to obey certain orders given by the mayor There is no question that (Marks) conferred with the mayor about the mayor's requests and that the mayor gave (Marks) a list of suspects The mayor then claims that nothing was done from that time on until the chief was suspended from office on Aug 9 That is hardly the case the chief conferred with the safety director and the police prosecutor and they finally decided that the thing to do was to confer with the state department of liquor control The [illegible] buyers [illegible] purchases were made and the men in charge of the operations reported to the chief of police at his home to keep the information from getting around town A series of raids were made all of which were successful and which William [illegible] ounced were the most successful [illegible] ever been [illegible] any [illegible] the [illegible] was [illegible] the cooperation [illegible] of Chief Marks.

[illegible] Mayor [illegible] point that [illegible] was [illegible] by the mayor [illegible] further [illegible] of Mayor Bolin [illegible] seems [illegible] compan[illegible] about [illegible] Of course there was bootlegging in Marion and of [illegible] there were bootleggers [illegible] in Marion There have always been and there probably always will be as long as Marion [illegible] 30,000 people and there are a few [illegible] statutes [illegible] farmer [illegible] pertaining [illegible] of [illegible] famous [illegible] book [illegible]

We will now [illegible] to the attention of the court that Mayor Bolin [illegible] was [illegible] so much interested in enforcing the law as he was in getting [illegible] Marks [illegible] removed from office [illegible] the state [illegible] department and actually requested that the state liquor department give no assistance to the local police department in enforcing the liquor laws

Athletic Club Incident

A little later after the raids and arrests of July [illegible] the chief of police happened into the Marion Athletic club one night [illegible] of the safety director This was along about the sixth of August There were some slot machines in the room and the safety director was [illegible] them and the chief of police confiscated the slot machines and took them to the police department The mayor of Marion was an honorary member of that club And on Aug 9 the mayor himself made some liquor raids going over the head of the department not advising the chief of police and having the buys made by a man with a criminal record and on the same day the chief of police was suspended Was the mayor interested in law enforcement or did the chief get the wrong bootleggers and get the wrong gambling devices His life was [illegible] short as chief of police after the gambling devices were confiscated

As one goes through this evidence any reasonable person can see that there is absolutely nothing to the charges filed against William L. Marks as chief of police Not a single charge is sustained in any way and not a single act of his complained of in the evidence—the charges were hardly specific enough to tell what they were about—is not explained so thoroughly and so satisfactorily as to satisfy any reasonable intelligent person

Taking up the charges in order—as to the incompetency we would suggest that in view of the number of laws to be enforced the size of the city of Marion and the number of men on the police force Mayor Bolin found very little to complain about and in no way sustained his charge of incompetency

Say Charge Not Sustained

As to gross neglect of duty there is not one instance in the record that shows that he failed to prefer charges in case where there were violations of law within his personal knowledge and there is not one iota of evidence to show that he failed to exercise proper supervision over his officers under his control and there is not one scintilla of evidence to show that he had failed to assume and discharge the duties of his position and that by reason thereof discipline was lacking in the department As a matter of fact Captain Mackan in charge of the night force testifies that there was no lack of discipline on the night force and apparently was satisfied with the efficiency of his force and Captain Shrock in charge of the day force states that he had good discipline And what was going on? The mayor himself was doing the best that he could to break down the efficiency and discipline of the police department by going over the head of the chief and talking to the men He actually took reports from men over the head of the chief and he assumed charge of the police department and took over the duties of the safety director and did not even advise the chief of police Naturally he made it as difficult as possible to enforce discipline and to keep up the efficiency of the department

Chief Only One Man"

The chief of police is only one man The mayor expected him apparently to be all things to all men as long as what he did was in agreement with the mayor's plan The mayor was extremely patient with the chief of police as stated in (Mayor Bolin's) brief until the chief actually arrested some bootleggers and confiscated some gambling devices in a club of which the mayor was an honorary member And that was apparently too much for the mayor because he only lasted about three days from then

And the safety director whose duties the mayor had taken over without advising the chief of police actually ordered in writing the slot machines returned and the mayor's clerk was present when the order was signed Perhaps the mayor's clerk was acting without the knowledge of the mayor as the mayor said the safety director was but he fired the safety director and he didn't fire the clerk Of course the mayor was interested in enforcing the liquor law He asked the liquor department not to give the assistance above referred to and he actually wanted the chief to return a stove that belonged to a confiscated still and give it back to a moon shiner

If the court will review this evidence fully and thoroughly the court will find that every single particle of evidence produced on behalf of (Mayor Bolin) if it didn't die a natural death on cross examination which in most instances it did was knocked into a cocked hat by evidence produced by (Marks)

Their Turn Next

Summer weather is not conducive to straight thinking It is a good custom that causes legislative bodies to do as much of their work as possible in winter months

[illegible] straight thinking is being done in Washington at the moment Congressmen already worn by a difficult session have been distracted additionally by President Roosevelt s impetuous demand for enactment of a momentous new tax policy before adjournment

That demand is said to be an astute political move on Mr Roosevelt s part It is supposed to strengthen his position with voters by stealing the thunder of Huey Long who seems to be taken more seriously in Washington than in Ohio for instance

Thus for political advantage President Roosevelt and his advisers have contributed deliberately to what already was a muddled legislative situation They apparently have only one purpose in mind to crowd all their legislative program on the nation during 1935 so that next year will be open for the reelection campaign

Their anti bigness tax proposal was assured of a spontaneous welcome from the discontented It takes time to comprehend the ramifications of such a policy Careful thinking also is required and the closing days of a congressional session ever have been characterized by a disposition to think carefully Everything considered introducing the proposal at the last minute was good political strategy

Yet among those cheering most enthusiastically for the proposal to confiscate the income and estates of wealthy persons and to take a larger part of the incomes of corporations are a few who are viewing it as something more than a liberal gesture They are aware of the fact that behind it stands the federal government s great fiscal problem and they are thinking primarily of the proposal s relation to that problem

The government needs money Eventually if it is to prevent a collapse it will be forced to impose taxes heavier than ever have been imposed in the United States in any previous period The man of moderate means and the man of less than moderate means will be affected when the time comes The money that can be taken from individuals and corporations under President Roosevelt s plan will be only a drop in the bucket The plan in reality is only the first detail in a program of taxation so intensive that no one will be left untouched

It is impossible consequently to share the enthusiasm of those who are praising the government for applying the lash to the backs of one class of taxpayers because all taxpayers are standing in the same line The man of moderate income and wealth will be next to taste the bitterness of confiscatory taxation and after his turn it will be the pleasure of the man who has almost nothing to endure the sting Maybe it s part of the benefit of liberality under the new deal maybe it s just plain old fashioned taxation

Exploring

President Roosevelt s message to congress on taxes and redistribution of wealth had three obvious purposes In the order of their importance they were to get votes to get Huey Long to get revenue

When the President talks about taxing wealth he is pleasing the multitudes who resent the existence of wealth They may be wrong in believing they would be better off if great fortunes were broken up but no politician would dare tell them they are wrong To them taxation is a means of destroying a class unpopular with them

Huey Long s share the wealth program is based squarely on a foundation of class strife With that appeal the Louisiana senator is politically impotent as far as the national election is concerned President Roosevelt s tax message was [illegible] way of taking the wind out of Sen Long s only partially filled sails

The tax reforms proposed by Mr Roosevelt would produce more revenue—an indeterminate amount The revenue from inheritance and gift taxes President Roosevelt advises should be applied to reduction of the national debt which is an exceedingly interesting idea Significantly that would not amount to redistribution of wealth Neither would it reduce the vast national debt very rapidly

The graduated corporation income tax which the President proposes is primarily a tax on size That is to say its primary purpose is not to produce revenue but to further President Roosevelt s intention to [illegible]

[illegible] as [illegible] regarded [illegible]

There is therefore nothing new in President Roosevelt s recommendations [illegible] as a statement [illegible] The [illegible] taxes on large [illegible] of the Federal [illegible] and the accrued interest of [illegible]

Youth Relieved—$50,000,000

[illegible] the United [illegible] relieved [illegible] $50,000,000 [illegible] is a worthy [illegible] No one [illegible] unable to find employment in private industry [illegible] trained for [illegible] and professions [illegible] high school [illegible] college [illegible] relief projects suited to youthful needs

Job training it is anticipated will attract 150,000 high school and college aid 60,000 work relief [illegible] post graduate aid 3,000 These make a total of 503,000 and a per [illegible] relief expenditure of $99.40 less administrative expenses First it will be necessary to find out how many youths between the ages of 16 to 25 are eligible for relief That job will be correlated with the unemployment census

Youth may have imagined at various times it was being left out of relief plans It has seen plans for relieving the aged for relieving families for [illegible] for relieving veterans [illegible] in fact for relieving all groups except youth Now the relief scope has been broadened [illegible] Youth should be properly grateful for the $99.40 less administrative expenses which represents its share in the distribution of wealth

All In Fun

Promoters would be happy if an important boxing match could be staged every week but perhaps it s just as well they don t have a chance to indulge themselves too freely The customers need to have their anticipation sharpened by waiting

Everything has worked out nicely so far this year Max Baer never popular as a champion has been disposed of by Jimmy Braddock Jimmy who is far from a brilliant fighter makes a good champion because he won despite heavy odds He will defend his title next year some time

Primo Carnera defeated by Baer automatically became a trial horse for the young Detroit Negro Joe Louis who gladdened the promoters hearts by a convincing victory last Tuesday night That leaves Max Baer for Louis to dispose of before meeting Braddock The Louis Baer fight will take place in September leaving the winter months for anticipation of the next championship bout

It couldn t have been better had the promoters done the fighting themselves Boxing is primarily a show staged for spectators Entries exits and suspense are just as important as they are on the stage The [illegible] is to keep spectators from realizing it s all in fun—fun for profit of course but still fun Primo Carnera shambling back to Italy with his memories knows just how funny it really is

Out The Window

Grade crossing elimination is considered necessary by a majority of the people Therefore when plans for the $4,000,000,000 work relief program were being made grade crossing elimination was urged as one of the most desirable projects the government could support

In response to demand and in recognition of the desirability of saving life at railroad crossings the government included grade crossing elimination in its plans It seemed as though something was going to be done at last toward eliminating an extraordinary hazard

Since then however a new factor has been introduced It has been shown that the government in order to make jobs for 3,500,000 persons will have to confine its expenditures to [illegible] a piece That figure includes not only wages but overhead expenses and material costs

Grade crossing elimination projects according to figures prepared by Secretary of Interior Ickes cost [illegible] for each person employed Thus barring an unexpected reversal of policy no considerable number of grade crossings will be eliminated in the course of the work relief program It is a disappointment but a disappointment of a type which has become so common as not to arouse unusual grief any more The government has seemed to make a policy of letting anticipation run riot before realization The people gradually are learning to tone down their enthusiasm for each new vista as it is revealed to them

BY PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON June 28 When the blue eagle blew up the business field was supposed to be blasted with price cuts and strewn with unemployment and wage cuts If you survey the effects in the government s own regular business figures you will find very little evidence that there has been an explosion

The price average of non farm food products for the week before the supreme court decision (May 25) was 77.8 The average for the last available week (June 15) was 77.9 virtually unchanged

Both employment and pay rolls have decreased possibly 3 per cent but this seems to be due at least partly to seasonal slack Industrial production is unchanged freight loading and department stores sales have shown abnormal seasonal improvement

Reservations

The price figures however are not conclusive They are collected by the bureau of labor statistics from list prices It is quite likely that some private price cutting has been done behind these list prices This is a common business custom

Furthermore the employment and pay roll figures cover only factories and do not include the service trades hotels restaurants very small factories where the wage effects of the decision are supposed to have been most heavily felt

Nevertheless the conclusion is justified that nothing sufficiently important to show up in the government business chart has happened since the court edict.

Chart

The broad picture may be surveyed in the following monthly chart Each figure represents the percentage of normality existing at the times mentioned as each is adjusted for seasonal variations All except prices are based on 1923 [illegible] 100 per cent

BY JAMES McMULLIN

NEW YORK June 28—Here s the inside story of recent banking bill developments as reported by well posted financial sources A couple of weeks ago Senator Carter Glass was ready to force a showdown in the full banking committee headed by Senator Duncan Fletcher on the separate passage of Titles I and III of the bill and the omission of Title II—the disputed section which would centralize banking authority in the federal reserve board Mr Glass was completely confident of victory and so informed his New York contacts

But at that point Senator Fletcher—administration wheelhorse —pleaded for a compromise to save the face of the White House He told Glass in effect that he could rewrite Title II to suit himself if only he wouldn t insist upon such a brutal and obvious rebuff to the President He further agreed to give his official support to Glass version of Title II and a [illegible] out that the difference from the original draft should be as inconspicuous as possible—so it would at least appear to the public that Mr Roosevelt had won his battle for the bill It s understood that the Virginian accepted the proposition but delayed putting it into effect while he took time out to collect four honorary degrees

He is said to be working on the redraft now—and this arrangement is the basis for his confident statement that there s no reason the senate can t dispose of the bill quickly New York bankers feel they have nothing to fear from any measure sponsored by Glass

Surrender

The compromise also accounts for the belated expiration of Adolph C Miller — member of the federal reserve board since its beginning—as to what was wrong with the federal reserve system in 1928 29 Mr Miller [illegible] set the stage for the senator Glass s ideas

He s for a centralized authority in command of open market operations buying and selling of government securities by the reserve banks and against continuing control by the New York [illegible] bank So far O K with the White House [illegible] favor [illegible] representation [illegible] 12 reserve banks on the open market committee which the bankers (and Glass) want and the White House and Eccles don t [illegible] Miller s [illegible] regains the [illegible] the judgment of [illegible] political members of the board was [illegible]

[illegible] Reserve [illegible]

Conspiracy

[illegible] New York banks [illegible] D[illegible] [illegible] These [illegible] temporary [illegible] extended The state chartered banks are chuckling their bills in the vest pocket Penalty for non compliance in their case is expulsion from the federal reserve system and they re ready and willing to take it—figuring they can always requalify later if advisable All they would lose would be the rediscount privilege—which they aren t using now anyway—and their power to clear out of town checks at par The latter would cripple them in dealings with correspondents—but they rate that a cheap price compared to prospective assessments Most of the clearing house banks are state institutions—not national

The national banks don t take the matter quite so casually The penalty for them is appointment of a federal receiver They can t possibly allow that and the law offers no loopholes So they will have to come across no matter how it hurts unless they get legislative relief before Monday However they do nurse strong hopes that at worst they will get their millions (literally in some cases) back later

Pipes

Keen observers characterize the platform evolved by the New York Young Republicans as signalling abandonment of hope for 1936 All issues on which a genuinely popular appeal might be based have been extracted—leaving merely a firm conservative base on which to build for the future

The Young Republicans also spelled the doom of a right wing coalition movement next year They are for coalition under the G O P label but no Jeffersonian Democrats for theirs That s that

These developments fit into the growing conviction of backstage Republican leaders that there s no use putting up a real fight in 36 We re licked in advance so why not be practical about it The idea rather is to plan to capture congress in 38 and then on the real triumph in 40 There are subterranean pipe lines to be carefully laid and there s no use going all out until they are ready to function This also ties in with the conservative belief—reported here previously—that if Roosevelt is to be beaten in 36 it must be for renomination

Interlude

New York was amused by the irony of New London Mr Roosevelt viewed the Yale Harvard regatta as a guest on a yacht belonging to Harold Pratt of Socony —rated one of the 46 (or a few more) citizens who would be affected by his proposal to raise the tax rates on income over a million dollars Mr Pratt was present in person Comment runs that a record of their conversation in strange Interlude style—including the hesitations not expressed out loud—would be a prize

WASHINGTON AS A FARMER.

An entry in the diary of George Washington Aug 10 and 11 1770—about two months before he started on his mission of exploration of the Ohio country in which he was to descend the Ohio river from Pittsburgh to the Kanawha—shows that in his farming operations he carefully watched his crops Here is what he [illegible] down after looking over his field

Elks Take See-Saw Night Game from Cubs, 13 to

GASCO WINS FROM HUBER TEAM, 6 TO 5, IN EXTRA INNINGS

Silk Mill Nine Captures Seventh Straight in Industrial Loop.

Two hectic games under the lights at Lincoln park, the seventh straight victory for the Silk Mill team and a 6 to 5 win in nine innings for the Gasco nine over Huber [illegible] field were just a few of the [illegible] softball games [illegible]

[illegible] the Industrial League [illegible] nine pulled its game [illegible] the Huber team from the fire [illegible] Gasco third [illegible] the winning run [illegible] Richards [illegible] the Huber team in the game while Edgington's [illegible] throw to home spoiled a possible chance of catching Haas at home as he scored the winning run.

Gasco scored four runs in the first inning after the Huber batsmen had brought two tallies home in the first half of the frame. Huber tied the count at 4 all as Gibson drove Marchant home. The count was again evened at 5 all in the next inning. Richards relieved Maurie Whiteura on the mound for Gasco and did a good job of hurling in the extra innings.

Silk Mill won an easy game from the Axe Funeral nine at Lincoln park 6 to 0 and the Marion Steam Shovel team romped to a 13 to 2 win over Art's Hamburger Inn nine at Garfield park. Walters and Diabennet trimmed the Pollok team at Steam Shovel field 10 to 3 in other twilight games of the Industrial loop.

The Elks finally won a see-saw affair from their old rivals the Westinghouse Cubs 13 to 11 in the second of two night games. Erie Traffic bats men took advantage of erratic playing on the part of the K of P team and won the first nocturnal event in a romp 10 to 3.

Lead Changes Hands

The Railroaders scored four runs in the first inning and two in each of the fourth fifth and sixth cantos. Three hits and a walk gave the losers two runs in the sixth and two walks and a double by Arbogast infielder, produced the last. Shoemaker limited the lodge team to five hits four of which came in the last two frames.

Lead exchanged hands four times as free hitting and misplays mixed freely in the Elks Cubs encounter. Despite home runs by Russ Harold and Junior Danner in sixth to give the Cubs an 11 to 10 lead the Elks pounded Rice and Lindley for four hits and three runs in their half of the sixth. With two men retired and two runners on base Danner Cub second baseman popped a foul to Catcher Pete Howison to end the tussle.

Fly balls were difficult for fielders to judge last night in the games under the lights. Two errors were made in the field and three blows went for extra base hits two of which were Danner's and Harrold's home runs.

Roy Converse Cub leftfielder made a brilliant catch of a long hit in the third inning of the last game. C D & M workmen shifted two of the floodlights to eliminate shadow at home plate. Players said that the change improved vision at the plate.

Failure of a team manager to return the scorebook of the Silk Mill Axe Funeral home prevents giving credit to the Weavers for blanking their opponents.

OLD RECORD SAFE

Maynard Snyder's Strikeout Work Not a New Mark.

Records of city league softball games show that the pitching exhibition of Maynard Snyder Forest Lawn hurler in striking out 18 batsmen Tuesday night was not a new mark.

The strikeout record for a city league game was made two years ago by Dave Schwaderer first [illegible] [illegible] in a game with Wesley M E. Schwaderer it was recalled struck out 19 men against a Newark Gas [illegible] team in the same season but a lengthy Kentucky [illegible] Wednesday [illegible] a better mark than Snyder's in league competition. A further study of past scores revealed the record while [illegible] recalled by several Marion softball fans. Snyder turned in his performance against Central Christian under the lights at Lincoln park.

INJURED PLAYER GETS BACK INTO LINEUP TO AID IN A. A. VICTORY

Holland Starts Miller Rally, Columbus Tops St Paul 5 4

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO June 28—A little thing like being hit on the head by a pitched ball and spending a couple of weeks in a hospital while a jaw fracture healed has not made Dutch Holland one of Minneapolis' sluggers plate shy.

Holland was struck on the head June 3 at Milwaukee by one of Steve Larkin's fast balls. He was sent up in the eighth inning against Toledo to bat for Pitcher Buck Marrow with two men on. He smacked the ball over the fence for a home run providing the backbone of a six run rally which gave the Millers a 9 to 6 victory over the Mud Hens.

Milwaukee and Indianapolis battling for second place back of the Millers finished right where they started by dividing a double header. The Brewers won the first one 5 to 1 rallying in the last three innings. The Indians came back to take the second game 6 to 4 leaving Milwaukee one percentage point ahead in the runner up struggle.

Kansas City and Louisville also broke even in a doubleheader. The Colonels broke loose for three runs in the tenth inning to win the opener 6 to 3 while the Blues scored a run in the ninth for a 8 to 7 decision in the second game.

The single victory boosted Kansas City into a tie with St Paul for fourth place the Saints taking a 5 to 4 beating from Columbus.

Both Leagues Pick Squads For All-Star Encounter

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO June 28—After almost as many sleepless nights as he spent last fall worrying over his battle plans for the World Series Manager Mickey Cochrane of Detroit today announced his American League lineup of 20 players for the third All-Star game against the National forces at Cleveland July 8.

Every club in the circuit was represented in the lineup selected by Cochrane with the aid of seven other managers in the league, the New York Yankees and Detroit leading with four stars apiece. Philadelphia and Boston each placed three, Cleveland and Washington two each and the St Louis Browns and Chicago White Sox each one. The lineup consists of five pitchers, two southpaws in Lefty Gomez of the Yanks and the veteran Bob Grove of the Red Sox, three catchers six infielders and six outfielders.

The Lineups

The lineup altered at the last minute because of the injury to outfielder Earl Averill of Cleveland batting star of last year's American League triumph follows:

Pitchers—Mel Harder Cleveland, Robert Grove Boston, Vernon Gomez New York, Schoolboy Rowe and Tommy Bridges, Detroit.

Catchers—Cochrane Detroit, Bill Dickey New York and Rick Ferrell Boston. Infielders—Lou Gehrig New York, Charles Gehringer Detroit, Joe Cronin Boston, Buddy Myer Washington, Jimmie Foxx Philadelphia and Oswald Bluege Washington.

Outfielders—Bob Johnson Philadelphia, Al Simmons Chicago, Joe Vosmik Cleveland, Roger Cramer Philadelphia, Ben Chapman New York and Sam West St Louis.

Batting practice battery—Dave Keefe Philadelphia pitcher, Ralph Perkins Detroit catcher.

Trainer—Dennis Carroll Detroit.

Coaches—Rogers Hornsby St Louis, Del Baker Detroit.

Many of them saw action in last year's game—Gehringer, Harder, Chapman, Gehrig, Foxx, Simmons, Cronin, Dickey, Gomez and West. Missing from that lineup were Charley Ruffing, Babe Ruth and Averill. Not an out and out rookie was included.

Although Cochrane said it was too early to figure up his starting lineup the general opinion around American League headquarters was that Bridges probably would start on the mound for the junior circuit with Harder ready to step in.

Dickey was regarded as almost a sure starter at the catching position with Gehrig at first, Gehringer at second, Cronin at shortstop and Foxx on third. The best guess on the starting outfield seemed to be Johnson left, Simmons center and Vosmik right with West replacing Johnson should the American League get a lead and require an air tight defense.

Six members of the pace-setting New York Giants and a like number of the world champion St Louis Cardinals are among the 20 players drafted for the National League team to meet the pick of the American League in the All Star game.

The National league squad follows:

First base—Bill Terry Giants and Jim Collins Cardinals.

Second base—Frank Frisch Cardinals and Billy Herman Cubs.

Third base — Pepper Martin Cardinals.

Shortstop — Floyd (Arky) Vaughan Pirates.

Utility infielder—Burgess Whitehead Cardinals.

Outfielders—Joe Medwick Cardinals, Wally Berger Braves, Paul Waner Pirates, Mel Ott and Joe Moore Giants.

Catchers—Jimmy Wilson Phillies, Gabby Hartnett Cubs and Gus Mancuso Giants.

Pitchers—Carl Hubbell and Hal Schumacher Giants, Dizzy Dean Cardinals, Paul Derringer Reds and Van Mungo Dodgers.

Coaches—Charlie Dressen manager of the Reds and Charlie Grimm manager of the Cubs.

Trainer—Doc Weaver Cardinals.

MARIONITES WILL PLAY MARYSVILLE

MARYSVILLE June 28—The Marysville Merchants and the Marion Independents will cross bats on the Pottersburg diamond west of here Sunday afternoon, William Barry manager of the Merchants announced today. Richard Cline and Marion Montgomery will be the battery for the locals. They have defeated Amlin 6 to 3 and trimmed the Ritz Grill team of Marion 11 to 3 two weeks ago. A large crowd is expected to witness this contest.

PITCHING OF RED SOX MOUND STAFF FAILS AGAIN AS A'S WIN

Yanks Gain on Idle Indians Tiger Sluggers Down Chicago

BY HUGH S FULLERTON JR
Associated Press Sports Writer

It begins to look as [illegible] the Boston Red Sox again will have to take a place among the [illegible] of the American League [illegible] can get [illegible] pitching.

[illegible] the same predicament and the Sox have [illegible] trying [illegible] the win and loss record [illegible] for the [illegible] Wes Ferrell has [illegible] Pinky Higgins and [illegible] has frequently [illegible] of the [illegible] yesterday.

Lefty Grove with six victories and [illegible] defeats and [illegible] Walberg with a 5[illegible] record are the other standing [illegible] of the other members of the mound staff has proved dependable.

The Sox just couldn't do anything right yesterday against the Athletics who couldn't do anything wrong and Philadelphia won 11 to [illegible] While Johnny Marcum was pitching four hit ball for the A's Pinky Higgins connected for three home runs two with runners on base. Bob Johnson slammed his 17th circuit drive of the season and Marcum tossed in one among the 17 safeties off Ferrell and Henry Johnson.

The Yankees belting four pitchers for 19 hits including Ben Chapman's homer inside the park walloped Washington 15 to 5 and increased their lead over the idle Cleveland Indians to 3½ games.

The only bright spot of the game for the Senators who made 11 hits off Red Ruffing and still couldn't get anywhere was the mound debut of Ralph (Red) Kress veteran utility infielder who apparently has decided to follow in the footsteps of Bucky Walters of the Phillies. He appeared in the eighth just after a seven run Yankee rally and struck out the side after giving one hit.

The Tigers went after the third place White Sox with a home run barrage topped by Hank Greenberg's twentieth four ply drive of the year and came out with a 9 to 5 decision which put them into a virtual tie with the Pale Hose. Pete Fox, Charley Gehringer and Mickey Cochrane also hit Tiger homers while Mule Haas got one for the Sox.

The Braves and Phillies slugged it out in a doubleheader the only National League affair scheduled. Boston won the opener 11 to 1 as Dutch Brandt pitched five hit ball and Wally Berger smashed his 17th homer with the bases loaded. The Braves threatened to capture the second game bringing the count up from 7 0 to 7 7 in the late innings but finally went down 8 to 7 when Johnny Vergez hit for the circuit in the ninth.

YOUNGSTERS PLAY EXTRA-INNING TILTS

Two extra inning games were played in the Y M C A Gra Y indoor softball league yesterday.

Roseberry pitched his Mark Street team to a 2 0 victory over Oak Street. Roseberry held the losers to two hits and struck out 17 batsmen in the eight inning game. The hurler also scored what proved to be the winning run in the eighth on a two base hit and two singles by Bowers and Gorenflo. Galloway was on the mound for the losers and allowed only three hits until the eighth when the winning runs were scored on three successive hits.

Coming from behind in the sixth inning the Glenwood team tied the count at 4 4 in their game with North Main street but they couldn't hold the North end boys and went down to defeat by a 6 to 4 score. Mervin Bower and Hogan each hit for two bases to win the game in the ninth inning.

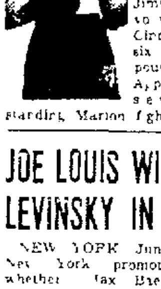
Hogan was the hitting star of the game getting three safe blows out of four trips to the plate while Angus led the losers in hitting with the same number of safeties. Richardson and Angus opposing pitchers were hit freely during the entire game but fast fielding held the score to a small number of runs.

Big Crowd To See Fighters

Marion and Bucyrus Boxers To Appear in Outdoor Inaugural Tonight.

Fair weather and a fast box [illegible] program are expected to attract a large crowd to the outdoor [illegible] of the season [illegible] arena [illegible] The [illegible] 3 [illegible] at 8 [illegible]

A large crowd of Bucyrus fans are expected to [illegible] to Marion [illegible] the [illegible] cheer on their favorite son [illegible] O'Massey who will oppose Jimmy Finzlea young Cuban of Cincinnati in a six round 155-pound event. Appearance of several outstanding Marion fighters on the card will draw a large group of city fans.



Kid [illegible] who has been piling up victories in Knoxville, Detroit, Mt Vernon and Covington Ky, will fight Joe Wolcott of Mt Vernon in the semi-final. The main event brings Luis Carpentero and Frankie Zike in an eight-round match.

JOE LOUIS WILL FIGHT LEVINSKY IN AUGUST

NEW YORK June 28—While New York promoters debate whether Max Baer or Max Schmeling will be his next Metropolitan opponent Joe Louis is making hay while the sun beams down.

As a tune-up for Baer or Schmeling the Brown Bomber has agreed to take on the redoubtable King Levinsky in Chicago in August. In line with their fight a month policy his managers say they are not averse to another till sometime in July. No opponent is barred. The only stipulation is that the price must be right.

Just when or under whose auspices the Levinsky fight will be held is undecided. Nate Lewis and Joe Foley rival promoters are bidding against each other and Louis' managers have asked Mike Jacobs promoter for the Twentieth Century Sporting club to decide. Jacobs will go to Chicago Monday to award the plum.

Foley says if he is the lucky man he will stage the bout in one of the Chicago ball parks unless the interest justifies transferring it to Soldiers field where the last Gene Tunney Jack Dempsey fight was decided. Meanwhile Mike Jacobs was cheered by word from Baer that he expects to be ready to meet Louis in September.

The former champion has had new X rays taken and specialists have assured him that if he will put his right hand in a plaster cast for three weeks he will be as good as new. If Jack Doyle the Irish heavy cares to risk his classic features Jacobs may toss him into the ring with Louis next month.

Insulin

MODERN civilization has been blamed for most of the ailments and some of the other afflictions of mankind. Yet when it comes to diseases there is evidence that many of them are old as the hills. For example there is a common belief that diabetes is a modern disease one never heard of by the ancients. As a matter of fact it has been recognized for hundreds if not thousands of years.

This popular misconception can probably be explained by the present widespread interest in diabetes. Prior to 192[illegible] little was known about how to control the disease. In that year two young Canadian physicians announced the discovery of an extract made from the pancreas the sweetbread of the calf and other animals. This the investigators called insulin. When it is injected into the tissues of a diabetic sufferer it helps him. It does so by making it possible to utilize starches and sugars which the victim is unable to do because of a physical defect.

While I am about it let me correct a false idea about the treatment. Although insulin is of tremendous value in the treatment of diabetes and capable of preventing certain complications it is by no means a cure for the disease. As yet no real cure has been discovered. But with the proper use of insulin a diabetic can live out the normal span of life.

I am often asked whether diabetes has increased within recent years. It is true that statistics appear to show there is an increase. So much has been said about it that persons have submitted to examination and in consequence many cases that would not have been recognized have come to knowledge. This has led to an increase in the number of cases recognized and reported. Of great significance however is the decline of proportionate deaths from diabetes since the discovery of insulin.

Everyone should be familiar with certain facts regarding diabetes. The disease is more common among overweight individuals. In fact it is often referred to as one of the penalties of overeating. For several reasons it is more prevalent among women.

There is considerable evidence to show that the disease may be hereditary. I am not enthusiastic about the importance of heredity. But it must be admitted that the anatomical and physiological importance of certain physical conditions relating to the pancreas make it probable that these may be factors in the development of diabetes so I waive my prejudices and admit the possibility.

The symptoms are due to an inability of the patient's pancreas to secrete an adequate amount of a natural substance also known as insulin. Unless there is a normal supply sugar is not digested so to speak and it accumulates in the blood and urine. Then it becomes necessary to supply in place of the natural product the prepared insulin which is administered under the skin by means of a hypodermic needle.

The diet of the diabetic must be prescribed by the physician. No definite rules can be laid down because each diet is determined by the degree of trouble as well as by the age weight sex and occupation of the sufferer. The doctor will advise you about this.

CITY REJECTS GARBAGE BIDS

Solicitor Rules High Proposal Fails To Comply With Specifications.

WILL BE READVERTISED

Agreement To Include Rental of Hog Farm and Purchase of Garbage.

The city board of control yesterday rejected all bids for the rental of the Marion city hog farm and the purchase of garbage collected by the city department for a two year period beginning July 1. This was done upon advice of City Solicitor Theodore B. Ochs after the board had awarded the contract to T. R. Moorhead of Summit street, branch manager of the Producers Cooperative Commission association.

The board rescinded its action in awarding the bid to Mr. Moorhead when Attorney Ochs gave an opinion that the bid was illegal because it contained a clause which stated that the city was to assume the expense of the upkeep and repair of the hog farm during the term of lease. The specifications contain no mention of this obligation, although the present operator of the hog farm, the Terminal Service Co. of Cincinnati, maintains this expense.

Will Readvertise

The board of control plans to readvertise for bids next week, and award the contract about Aug. 1. The Terminal company probably will continue to operate the farm at the amount it is now paying throughout July, City Clerk I. Aultman Raub said. Revised specifications will specify that the lessee is to assume the expense of the upkeep and repair of the farm, and will clearly outline the obligations of the city and of the lessee under the contract, Mr. Raub said.

Mr. Moorehead's bid called for the payment of $101.99 a month to the city for the rental of the farm and purchase of the city's garbage. Others who submitted bids and the amounts are as follows: The Terminal Service Co. of Cincinnati, $540 a year for the rental of the farm, and $37.50 a month for the purchase of the garbage; L. J. Rodenfels of 520 Pearl street, $41 a month for the rental of the farm and purchase of the garbage; James R. Mitchell of 265 Spencer street, $816 a year for the rental of the farm and purchase of the garbage, L. C. Harper of Valley City, O., $50 a month and 20 per cent of the profit on the sale of the hogs that are fed the garbage; George Dent of Columbiana Station, Lorain county, O. $612 a year for the rental of the farm and $568 a year for the purchase of the garbage.

Same Bid Offered

The Terminal company's bid is the same as the company is paying now. The contract with the firm expires July 1.

Moorhead's was the only bid that specified which party to the contract was to assume the obligation of repair and upkeep of the farm, Mr. Raub said.

HOSPITAL GROUPS TO MEET TONIGHT

made of two hospitals in cities near Marion and of business management practices, such as complete systems of bookkeeping, that might be used to advantage here. He said both institutions had been losing money prior to the application of new business methods in handling them, and that both are now making profits.

Councilman Fabian suggested that since the City hospital is municipally owned that it might not be reasonable to expect the institution to take in enough money from its operations to take care of all charity work and upkeep of the property. He expressed the opinion, however, that pay-patients at the hospital should pay the institution's current operating expenses.

Stresses Account Collection

Mayor Bolin emphasized the need of an efficient method of collecting accounts.

One phase of the selection of a business manager or director at the hospital, to be investigated today by City Solicitor Theodore B. Ochs was the legal rights of officials to set up the managership in such a way that it would not be subject to changes when city administrations changed.

It was suggested that a commission composed of six persons, with terms of two expiring each year, might be set up to employ the manager and direct his activities, thus making it impossible for any new city administration to obtain control of the board, by appointment of members, in its first year in charge of city affairs. However, sections of law placing responsibility for operation of the hospital in hands of the safety director were considered a probable obstacle to such a move.

Regarding possibility of changes of hospital business managers every time the city administration changed, Mayor Bolin suggested that if a manager proved himself efficient in every way public opinion would not permit changing administrations to remove him.

RAILROADER ASKS NO U. S. CONTROL

By The Associated Press

FINDLAY, O., June 28—James J. Pelley of Washington, president of the Association of American Railroads, urged discontinuance of government interference in railroad operations before 300 oil and railroad executives here last night.

"All the railroads want is a fair deal," Pelley asserted. "Their only demand is withdrawal of subsidies from competitors, making all forms of transportation stand on their own."

mobile shuttled across him by Mrs. Martha Clift, who was sentenced to 20 years in prison.

"Goodbye, darlings," was all she said.

She addressed two matrons who stood weeping before the chair, clinging to the arms of a white-haired guard.

They formed a screen between the woman in the flowered blue print and 22 witnesses. The chaplain intoned the Twenty-Third Psalm—"The Lord is my shepherd"—and the current crackled.

Leonard Scarnici, upstate gangster, was electrocuted immediately after Mrs. Coo's body had been wheeled from the room. He shot Detective James Stevens during a bank holdup in Rensselaer.

He came in grinning widely, chewing gum and puffing a cigaret held with a steady hand.

"O. K., warden?" he asked Lewis E. Lawes, waving the cigaret. The warden, who entered only after Mrs. Coo had died, nodded and muttered something unintelligible.

Steel-nerved, the black-haired Scarnici put the leather strap at his wrist in position while the guards were busy with bonds at his legs.

A priest held out a cross and he kissed it. Then:

"All I want to say," Scarnici declared clearly, "is I want to send a message to the people in Albany, the people who doublecrossed me up there. I still say I'm a better man than they are. I thank you, warden."

ENGLAND KEEPS OPEN GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

time in 14 years Britons have won it two years in a row.

The veteran Charley Whitcombe, a member of the last four British Ryder Cup teams, made a grand bid for the title with opening rounds of 71 and 68, giving him the lead at the halfway mark. He maintained the pace with a 73 this morning and then slipped to a final 76 for a total of 288, good for third place.

Alf Padgham, a consistent campaigner in the last few championships stood with a total of 253 for 63 holes and needed a one-under-par inward 35 to tie the 40-year-old Whitcombe.

Perry, who a few years ago was assistant to Jim Braid, a former champion, at Walton Heath had virtually a blank record before his triumph today much like Sam Parks, Jr., of Pittsburgh, who came from total obscurity to win the American Open title earlier this month.

A crowd estimated at 15,000 swarmed around the clubhouse grounds, cheering itself frog-throated and making it difficult for Perry to reach the dressing room. After watching the burly Perry sink his final putt Cotton was one of the first to rush across the green and shake his hand.

Perry was in the thick of the contention for the title from the very start. He opened with a par-busting 69 and then followed it up with a 75 yesterday enabling him to tie with two others for fourth place.

Clipping three strokes off par and finishing with a brilliant 69 for a new amateur record for the course, William Lawson Little, Jr., of San Francisco completed the strenuous test with a 72-hole aggregate of 289. The world amateur champion had previous rounds of 75, 71 and 71.

Henry Picard of Hershey, Pa., the sensation of the last American mid-winter season, shot a last round 75 for a total of 292.

Second place went to Alf Padgham. He shot the last nine holes in 34 for a 71 and a total of 287. Whitcombe moved down a notch to third place while Little was bracketed with Bert Gadd, a British pro, with 289.

Mrs. George Kiehl, Mrs. Jacob Feezer, Mrs. W. Postle and Mrs. F. H. An ice cream social was arranged for July 23 on the church lawn. The guild voted to make immediate payment of $50 of its pledge on the church building fund. A handkerchief shower was given Mrs. W. H. Hansen who will leave soon to make her home in Forest City, Ia. Lunch was served by the hostess.

of perfections. When the curtain rolled together, there was no expression except that of deep satisfaction on the face of Clara Louise.

She had loved her play, had seen it enacted as she had pictured it in the long winter months of its composition, she had tasted of the first rewards of what to the public was the first fruit of a fertile mind that may develop into a personality of which Marion may some day be proud.

Freshly coiffured and manicured, dainty in flowered silk crepe, and wearing one of the three corsages from her friends, Clara Louise yesterday sat in a box and was queen of all she surveyed. At first a trifle apprehensive, she silently repeated each line of her beloved mystery-romance, and then as the young players continued to merit her confidence she sat back and enjoyed her play, content that it was in the competent hands of young people who had been directed for several weeks by Mrs. W. D. Brown.

From time to time her face reflected the mood of the play. At places which had been particularly difficult in rehearsal her hands played nervously with her dress or reached to a throbbing throat. But in those scenes in which the players rose to dramatic heights Clara Louise rose with them and from her facial expressions she was in spirit with those on the stage.

Still Enjoys Play

Nervous at times, the tension broke and she relaxed into the keen enjoyment of the thrills of her play. Always, though, she was on the alert, and any delayed action brought slight queries in the form of frowns, to her expressive face. In the more exciting moments her tempo rose to that of the players as she leaned from her box to watch more closely the interpretations given by the cast. Silently she approved of them, low-voiced she confessed to being "thrilled." It was as interesting to watch the play of emotions across her face as it was to follow the action of her play on the stage and the reaction of the audience.

One of the moments that struck the reviewer as particularly poignant came at the end of the first act when, certainly thrilled to the very heart by the applause accorded her play, the young author burst into song with "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes." It was a little of a throat-catching bit to see her, so young, fresh in the triumph of her first play raising a sweet soprano voice in song.

When her actors and actresses were particularly satisfying she was genuinely pleased, expressed in a smile of deep satisfaction, and there was always satisfaction registered, especially after the players had performed some scenes which had gone a trifle haphazardly in rehearsal. No one in the audience was more excited at the climax than the author who had seen her play in rehearsal many times but yesterday realized to the fullest the tenseness, the fulfillment of all she had written into her play.

Parts Well Acted

The play, written for mature actors, was exceptionally well performed by the young players. They mastered their English surprisingly well, and gave full vent to their emotions in the climax.

Written in three acts and four scenes, the production ran smoothly to the end. Well costumed, well staged, it was as near perfection as the author might have wished.

Joan Boyd, the youthful mother plans ambitiously for the marriage of her daughter, Marjorie Lewis, to the dashing Count de Mahlon, played by Jack Markwith. Despite his gift of an emerald necklace the daughter elopes on the night of her debut with Mahlon Gast, the American secretary of her father. The mother, beside herself, is temporarily soothed by her husband, Page Boyer, and her daughter's socially-minded friend, Betty Beel. The count is more than naturally concerned over the disappearance of the necklace.

After the elopement things take a turn for the worse for the count and his valet, Stanley Thomas, and when the plot is unwound it is discovered that the count has stolen the necklace from a Grecian lady of title and has presented it to the English girl as a "front" for his approaching confession of love—for her money. Marguerite Queen, in the role of a famous London woman detective, and Ruth Douce in the role of a woman detective who hires out as a maid in the household solve the theft of the emerald necklace on the eve of the daughter's return to her family.

Mrs. Merle Hamilton assisted Mrs. Brown in directing the play. Mrs. J. A. Dodd, Mrs. Ray R. King and Mrs. Frank R. Mann were in charge of properties and Mrs. Albert Russell was in charge of make-up. The stage was in charge of D. A. LeLong.

Between the first and second acts, after the author had sung, Thomas Fetter and Frances Wesley danced a tango and in the intermission between the second and third acts June Thomas gave several tap dances. Music at the intermissions and preceding the opening act was furnished by Ralph Craven and his orchestra.

recover payment in dollar equivalent—$1.69 for each devalued dollar—and reaffirm the administration's policy of maintaining "dollar for dollar" equality.

In the famous "gold cases," the supreme court ruled that the government could not change the terms of government bonds calling for payment in gold. It held, however, that the holders of such bonds must show actual damages in bringing suit. The new legislation would not allow such suits to be brought.

House No Place To Nurse a Baby, Says Doorkeeper

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 28—The senate gallery, in the opinion of Joseph J. Sinnott, the doorkeeper, is no place to nurse a baby.

Hilda Jean Parker, eight-months-old daughter of a Tennessee farm couple who hitch-hiked to Washington "to try to get some shoes for the kids" provoked this pronouncement. When Hilda became hungry yesterday while visiting the gallery with her parents and their other children, Mrs. Parker started nursing her.

"I have never seen anything like this happen in the 40 years I've been here," declared the doorkeeper after escorting the family out.

MAN IS RELEASED ON $1,500 CASH BOND

Avoy's release immediately after the brief hearing. McAvoy left for an unannounced destination and police and officials said they did not know where he might be reached.

By waiving examination, McAvoy made it unnecessary for the municipal court to conduct a preliminary hearing, scheduled for Monday, at which time the court would have decided whether there was sufficient evidence to indicate that a crime might have been committed.

McAvoy's action followed nearly six hours of questioning in which Prosecuting Attorney Paul D. Michel, Police Prosecutor Z. P. Davis and a representative of the Cleveland office of the department of justice took part.

Police Prosecutor Davis quoted McAvoy as denying any knowledge about an automobile stolen in Urbana last Friday and found in a garage on Union street near Pleasant street, together with a large amount of merchandise police say they believe had been stolen. McAvoy was arrested Monday night as a suspect in the theft of the automobile. Police say the woman in whose garage the stolen car was found has identified McAvoy as one of the two men to whom she rented the garage.

McAvoy, the police prosecutor said, told of having rented the garage several years ago, but not within the last two years, explaining that he made Marion a "stopping place" when he was hauling bootleg liquor from Erie, Pa., and Louisville, Ky., to Youngstown, Toledo, Cleveland and Fort Wayne, Ind., where he sold the liquor. He said he frequently parked his automobile in the garage and spent the night at an uptown hotel here. He said he used the alias of McNeil at that time.

Admits Serving Term

McAvoy was quoted as admitting that he served 22 months in federal prison at Atlanta, Ga., from 1921-23, for robbery of a Nickel Plate railroad car loaded with alcohol. Federal records obtained by police show he was sent to prison from Buffalo, N. Y.

He said, according to Prosecutor Davis, he worked for a number of years in Buffalo as a switchman for the Nickel Plate railroad. He said he was born in Liberty, Pa., and that he has no living relatives nearer of kin than a cousin in Pittsburgh, Pa.

After completing the federal prison term McAvoy, as quoted by officials, said he adopted the name of John McNeil. He said he devoted his time to bootlegging and running roadhouses at different times since he finished the prison term.

Police Hold Car

Police continued to hold McAvoy's automobile today following a checkup in Lima which disclosed the address he had given in registering his bill of sale and for purchase of license plates was a vacant lot. Police said the bill of sale was in the name of John McNeil, the name McAvoy said he was using at that time, and that McAvoy had told them he bought the car in Bucyrus. Police pointed out they were holding the car because the fictitious address given by McAvoy apparently made him guilty of false registration of the vehicle.

Car Stolen in Urbana

The automobile McAvoy is charged with stealing is a Graham car taken from E. C. Dorsey & Son garage in Urbana last Friday. Police Capt. Fred Norton, acting head of the department in the absence of Chief Mackan, reported this morning that a checkup in Urbana showed a man registered as John McNeil stayed at a hotel in Urbana the night before the car was taken.

Police quoted McAvoy as saying, when he was freed yesterday, that the city prison beds were the hardest he ever had slept on.

McAvoy's posting of bond was his second effort to obtain freedom in two days. Wednesday he filed habeas corpus proceedings in common pleas court, charging officials would neither file a charge against him nor fix bond. Before the habeas corpus action had been decided the automobile stealing charge was brought against him, automatically dismissing the action he had brought to obtain freedom.

YOUTH WINS MATCH IN OHIO GOLF EVENT

1933 High School Champion Downs 40-Year-Old Cincinnati Golfer.

By The Associated Press

KENWOOD COUNTRY CLUB, CINCINNATI, O., June 28—Eddie Meister, Cleveland youngster, won his way into semi-finals of the Ohio amateur golf championship here today, eliminating Bill Clensy of Cincinnati, state public links title holder, 4 and 2.

The 19-year-old Clevelander, high school champion in 1933 had a three-up edge at the turn. Clensy cut it to two with a birdie on the thirteenth, but Meister came back to win the 15th and 16th, to oust the 40-year-old Clensy who had gone further in the amateur than any public links champion has gone before. Meister was one over par for the 16 holes.

Nelson Ruddy of Cincinnati crashed into the semi-finals also by ousting Harry Sweitzer of Cleveland, 3 and 1. Ruddy will meet Meister in the 18-hole semi-final match this afternoon.

Max Devol, Marietta, who climbed the heights yesterday by eliminating Bob Kepler, Dayton star, in a 20-hole match, continued his winning ways by putting young Tom Whiteway of Cleveland, out of the running by a 3 and 2. Devol, playing steady golf, was one up at the end of nine holes, and Whiteway could not match his sterling putting on the back nine.

Police also learned that Dickinson had two cocktails shortly before that, and was irked because they were not served quickly. He had registered at the hotel Tuesday.

Dickinson, it was reported, had made several recent trips to Cincinnati before he came to Detroit.

Can't Explain Watch

Police, convinced that robbery preceded the murder, could not explain why an expensive watch carried by the victim was left on his person. Mrs. Dickinson, reached at Tarrytown, N. Y., said that her husband had come to this city with "several thousand dollars."

Ironically, Dickinson's watch chain bore a four-leaf clover luck charm inscribed with the French motto, "Je Porte Bonheur" (I Bring Good Luck).

After Inspector Navarre had completed identification of the body through a telephone conversation with Charles F. Hughes, jr., two Detroit attorneys, Archibald Broomfield and George Krapfel, viewed the body and verified his report.

Krapfel said he and Broomfield had conferred with Dickinson Wednesday afternoon and that he had driven Dickinson to his hotel Wednesday afternoon, first stopping at a photographic shop on Washington boulevard where the New York attorney had left negatives of pictures of his wife and son to be printed.

His Actions Unknown

"That was the last I saw of him," Krapfel said. "We don't know what he did last night and haven't any idea of his plans."

The attorneys said they became alarmed after reading a newspaper description checked with Dickinson.

The police were certain the body had been placed in the park after 1 a. m. since the clothing was dry. It had rained heavily until after midnight.

Absence of a weapon precluded suicide. The strongest clue to the murder hypothesis lay in the two bullet wounds. Either would have incapacitated the victim so that he could not have fired the second himself, police pointed out.

Inspector Navarre said the motive for the slaying apparently was robbery, but in view of the attorney's interest in the law suit other angles would be followed as a matter of course to determine if they were related to the fatal shooting.

Other papers found among the attorney's personal effects in his hotel room included correspondence with Albert D. Osborn, handwriting expert who testified at the murder trial of Bruno Richard Hauptmann.

WAGNER LABOR BILL BEFORE ROOSEVELT

Measure Enacted by Congress Amid Nationwide Talk of Strikes.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 28—The Wagner labor disputes bill hailed by the American Federation of Labor as "labor's magna charta" and denounced by some industrial leaders as a breeder of strife, moved forward toward the statute books today in an atmosphere charged with strife talk.

While this measure guaranteeing labor's right to bargain collectively lay on President Roosevelt's desk, awaiting his signature, a new crisis developed in contract negotiations between the United Mine Workers and soft coal operators of the Appalachian field.

The miners are seeking a 30-hour week and a 10 per cent increase in pay. The operators want them to continue working 35 hours a week at present wage rates. A walkout scheduled for June 17 was delayed at the President's request to give congress time to pass the Guffey-Snyder coal stabilization bill. But the present extension of 1934-35 contracts will expire Sunday at midnight and the Guffey-Snyder bill has not been passed.

A committee representing both the United Mine workers and the operators was charged with reporting to the Appalachian joint wage conference at 3 p. m. today. It had reached no agreement last night. Some observers believed the President again would intervene.

Although gloomy at the apparent failure of the miners to win higher wages and shorter hours by negotiation, union labor leaders in the capital were jubilant at the completion of congressional action yesterday on the long-disputed Wagner bill. They were confident the President would sign it quickly into law.

It is designed to guarantee labor's right to bargain collectively, give the labor organization chosen by the majority of the employes in a plant the right to speak for all the employes, specify five "unfair labor practices," and set up a new national labor relations board with power to carry its decisions to court for enforcement.

FIND STOLEN WEIGHT MACHINE NEAR CITY

Device Taken from Drug Store Discovered in Wheat Field.

A penny weight machine, stolen from the entrance of the Gallaher Drug Co. Sunday night, was found early last night by E. C. Northrup, a farmer living on the Barks road two miles south of Marion. Mr. Northrup found the machine in a wheat field on his property.

Max Huston, 27, and Lewis Wolf, 27, both of Logansport, Ind., were bound over to the grand jury this week when they pleaded not guilty to a charge of grand larceny in connection with the theft of $35.14 in pennies from the Gallaher Co. The men were arrested at 4:25 a. m. Monday when police stopped their automobile on Oak street and discovered the pennies strewn on the floor in the rear of the car, together with a piece from a weight machine.

The recovered machine has a large and a small piece broken from it, Acting Police Capt. Fred Norton said, and the small piece found in the Indiana car fits on the Gallaher machine. The large piece has not yet been found.

MANCHURIANS FAIL TO CAPTURE PEIPING

Mutinous Force Repulsed by Loyal Chinese Troops Under Gen. Shang Chen.

By The Associated Press

PEIPING, China, June 28—Loyal government troops repulsed today a force of mutinous Manchurian soldiers who attempted to seize this "forbidden city," dispersing the rebels after a night of terror.

Martial law was declared throughout the ancient, one-time capital of a Chinese empire, but it was lifted after the victory for the peace preservation forces.

The city gates, at which the invaders were turned back, remained closed, however, and traffic was suspended throughout the city.

During the 12-hour uprising, breaking out when a force of 2,000 Chinese irregulars under Pai Chien-Wu seized the important Fengtai junction south of Peiping, the city was cut off by railway from the outside world. However, traffic to Tientsin was resumed late in the day.

The rebels took possession of an armored train which once operated under the walls of Peiping, but Gen. Shang Chen's soldiers cut the railway on all sides and compelled the force manning the train to surrender.

The origin and motives of the uprising remained obscure. Japanese military authorities in Tokyo, however, expressed the opinion that the irregulars had tried to seize Peiping, planning to establish an independent north China regime.

GAG RULE SUGGESTED FOR SOAK-RICH BILL

who yesterday demanded a "real tax bill"—one "that will balance the budget." Another was Rep. Reed, Republican of New York, who said the tax program as outlined by Chairman Harrison, Democrat of Mississippi, of the senate finance committee would not raise enough revenue "to make a drop in the bucket."

60 to 80 Per Cent

The levies as proposed by Harrison would place a tax of 60 to 80 per cent on incomes over $1,000,000, 4 to 75 per cent on inheritances over $300,000, and 10 to 17½ per cent on corporation incomes. He estimated that these, plus gift taxes at undisclosed rates, would yield about $340,000,000 annually.

Some house liberals, including Rep. Rankin, Democrat of Mississippi, said these proposed rates were not "stiff enough" to bring a "wider distribution of wealth" as outlined by Mr. Roosevelt. Other members served notice they would seek repeal of the federal gasoline tax and also existing levies on furs, toilet articles, electricity and the like.

It is to head off these moves that the Democrats on the ways and means committee want an agreement to limit the bill to the four taxes recommended by the President.

Both branches of congress yesterday completed action and sent to the White House the measure extending $500,000,000 worth of "nuisance" taxes for two years. Most of them would have expired Sunday night.

Laurie waited, feeling a fool, a few minutes beyond her time before she left for the office, which was within an easy walk. But nothing happened.

So she set forth and did her day's work as usual, following the routine with a kind of intelligently vacant mind. Nobody said anything to her. Evidently the news of Rex Moore's return had not filtered through from above.

Mark Albery did not send for her. She had half expected that he would.

When she got home, Rex Moore met her on the pavement.

"I found out when you left the office," he said. "I've been with Albery nearly all day. Everything went off first-rate. May I come up with you, Mrs. Moore?"

"I suppose so," she said coldly. "Are you determined to go on rubbing it in?"

He did not answer until they were up in her sitting-room. Then he looked at her, smiling in his unexpected way, but without mockery. Then she saw that his face could be nice. He wore a new gray flannel suit, and his hair had been cut and trimmed to conventional smoothness.

"No, I won't do that," he said casually. "Why not treat it like a joke, which it really is?"

"I don't see it in that light at all, Mr. Moore."

"I should try to. Do you mind if I smoke?" He did not sit down without being asked.

She stood facing him, and suddenly felt foolish. She pointed to a chair, and sat down herself, refusing a cigaret.

"So you went to work as usual today?" he asked abruptly.

"Of course."

"You intend to go on with it?"

"What do you mean?" She stared in amazement.

"Only that Albery asked me. I said I didn't know. Perhaps it would look better if you didn't."

Laurie's eyes blazed.

"Nothing would induce me to give up my work. I would rather tell the truth. You haven't any right to ask me to."

"I won't, then. Don't hit the ceiling! It's only that he is offering me a very decent salary, and it might seem queer."

"I don't care what it seems." She saw amusement in his face and at once controlled herself. She mustn't get excited. "They didn't know at the office that you had come back," she said.

"Albery is going to announce it tomorrow. He's been very decent; he's used his influence so that the papers won't make any fuss. I've agreed to give one interview only, and that'll be the end. I never would stand publicity. Well Albery has solved our domestic problem. He's lending us a furnished flat quite near his own, and he's asked us to dinner tomorrow."

Laurie was speechless for a moment; then she stammered out:

"You don't mean we've got to live in the same house?"

She looked so much like an abashed child that he could not help laughing.

"Naturally. Don't husbands and wives—usually?"

"I never thought of that."

"You never seem to think of anything. But don't worry, we shall manage. It will give us a chance to stage quarrels and find out we hate each other. I don't suppose you want me to come and live here?"

"Oh, no, no! There's no room. Besides—oh, no! But it's my home. I can't give it up. It's my sister's home. I made it for her."

"You can shut it up for the time being. I'll pay the rent. By the way, your sister—how does she stand in this little game?"

Laurie's face crimsoned once more with shame.

"Glad thinks I was married to you. You see she was unconscious, at death's door, when it happened. I couldn't face her afterwards. So I let her think it, like everybody else."

"You must have an ingenious brain," he commented.

"It wasn't difficult. She believes everything I say. I only had to tell her I'd met you near our home in the country, and we were married secretly after poor Belle died. Glad was away for six months, working on an orange plantation, before we went to Sydney. She didn't know Belle, she went to a different school. She's five years younger than I."

He looked at her straight in the eyes. For the first time her antagonism faltered.

"I guess you've been through a bit," he said quietly. "Well, that's all right. You'll send the good news to your sister right away." His smile was mocking again.

"She will be coming to London soon."

"Then she can stay with us and watch our cat and dog life. Better to have a witness on your side so it can be all my fault."

"You're perfectly disgusting," Laurie exclaimed furiously. "I don't believe I'll go on with it after all."

"It's fixed. You can't get out of it now. By the way, you know my first name. What's yours?"

"Laurie."

"It suits you. It's uncommon—like you. I say, must you look so glum? Can't you see the funny side of it?" There was quite a pleased expression on his face, a hint of the eager, happy, laughing young face of the photograph. "I haven't said I'm grateful to you, but I am. Albery is all over me. You see I've got to make money. It's the main thing for me to make lots of money."

"I'll make it easy for you," he added. "And I'll get off now, and come back in the morning. Albery sent a message. You're not to go back to the office anyhow for a few days until we're settled in. Can you move tomorrow?"

"I suppose so," she said ungraciously.

"Right! Good night, then!"

Laurie was confused when he held out his hand, but she put hers in it. A tingling went through her that made her pull it hastily away.

Her "good-night" was a whisper, as she fought for self-control.

Tomorrow, Laurie has a talk with Mark Albery.

Married Comrades

BY ADELE GARRISON

Father Urges Madge Not to Give Up Her Work.

IT SEEMED an eternity that I waited, with my father's arm around me, for his answer to the question I had put to him concerning the advisability of my giving up all my outside work and devoting my life to my husband and the children.

My query to him, put only because within two or three hours he was going away from me upon a perilous journey of which no one could foresee the outcome, was not the result of a sudden impulse upon my part. It was a question which had been with me constantly since our compact of married comradeship of six months before, it was a question which, it seemed to me sometimes, was tearing me into shreds.

Same Old Question

I imagine that every woman who has made a distinct place for herself in the professional, artistic or business world faces the same question. Few men can understand her feeling, for the age-old sex antagonism, though buried fathoms deep beneath civilization, rears its head subconsciously in almost every masculine breast, decreeing that the man, as wage-earner and figure of the outside world, and the woman as home-keeper and child-rearer, is the only right and possible order of things.

But a woman who has tasted economic independence, especially one who has realized the joy which lies in creating things—a picture or a poem, a gown or a garden, a school or a sanitarium—has admitted an insidious something into her blood—a poison or a precious elixir, depending upon the point of view—which she cannot banish without maiming her soul as effectually as a severed limb would mutilate her body.

Sacrifice Loved Ones?

On the other hand, no woman worthy of the name, who loves her husband, and who has brought children into the world, can bring herself to sacrifice those loved ones to her own career. Then comes the eternal compromise where both family and career, if they do not actually suffer, are materially hampered.

I had been facing this dilemma for months, but it never had been brought home to me so forcibly as upon this day of my father's departure, and of mine for the mountains. For Dicky had wistfully asked me if I could not find time when I returned for doing some of the things with him which we had done together in the days before Faith's birth, indeed long before that, ere my work in Philip Veritzen's theatrical organization first began.

Her Two Sides.

One part of me longed to throw aside every bit of creative work; to take Faith from Katherine's arms and care for her myself; to devote infinitely more time to Dicky. But another side of my brain whispered to me that women who devoted themselves to their children and housework had little more time for comradeship with their husbands than had those whose income from creative work enabled them to transfer the details of housework and child caring to even more capable hands than their own.

It was a hopeless problem I told myself as I waited anxiously for my father's answer. I was fairly sure what it would be—a counsel to drop my work.

But, surprisingly, when he finally spoke it was to voice an entirely different philosophy.

Advises Against It.

"I am afraid I am not orthodox, my darling child," he said with a faint smile, "although I would not give this same advice in many almost similar cases. But I should advise you never to give up your work unless you see that the physical, mental or spiritual welfare of my husband and children are endangered by your continuance in it."

He paused, and, completely surprised, I sat in astonished silence until he spoke again.

"There are two reasons why I say this," he went on. "One is because of Richard's personality; the other is because of your own."

What in the world was coming now, I wondered as he paused again. Evidently he was having trouble in explaining his theory because he was so inordinately anxious that he should give me sound advice.

"You are a rarely gifted woman, my child," he said, and although I shifted uneasily under what I knew to be high praise I did not dare to interrupt him with a protest.

"It would be a crime against everything artistic for you to bury the talent you have," he said, "and it also would be a crime against your own instincts. But that is not the reason I am advising you to keep on with your work. It is because of Richard."

CHOOSE THE NEAREST EXIT

Many a man who vows he would "go to the end of the world" for you, would be surprised and hurt if he thought you expected him to go as far as the altar end of the church aisle.

Sometimes, a girl who thinks she is getting a strong masterful cave-man along with her wedding ring, discovers that her hero is only a spoiled imitation of "Peck's Bad Boy."

A "Quitter," according to Reno Ruth, is a woman who stops getting married after the first two bad breaks.

When a girl says she can't decide which of two men to marry, she usually means that she can't decide which of them is going to give her the chance.

When a man marries a quiet restful little thing who won't ruffle his nerves, he sometimes finds life so placid that he looks around for a few wild women to help him endure it.

Telling a woman how to do things is an ingrowing weakness in the masculine make-up. Whether it's philosophy, finance, children or cooking, all men have wonderful judgment. Ask them.

Every now and then, some radical orator gets up on the platform, rails at marriage and derides domesticity—then goes home and asks his wife to mix his gargle for him.

This is the giddy season when the elderly Lothario fixes his faded eye on a slenderized flapper, grins at her with all his bridge-work and fancies he is exerting "sex-appeal."

Sometimes a woman's "intuition" is her greatest asset. And sometimes it's just a pain-in-the-neck.

HE'LL NEVER FORGET IT.

By International News Service

BOSTON—Richard Kates of New Rochelle, N. Y., came to this city. He left his wife in their automobile a quarter of a mile away from federal building where he went to transact business. Kates was unable to remember where he left his wife or automobile later and after an hour of suspense summoned police, who found them via radio patrol cars. Mrs. Kates, kept waiting for five hours, didn't think it was funny.

IN BANKING WAR

J. M. Nichols (above) of Chicago more widely known as "100 per cent Nichols," faces a showdown with federal banking authorities in his one-man fight against the government's system of insuring deposits. Marion City Parks Put in Trim for Summer

Spring housecleaning in Marion city parks has been completed and they are now available for the summer picnic and family reunion season.

Park board officials have made every effort to put the parks in the best possible condition and improve their attractiveness. A large number of new picnic tables were built during the winter season, and it is believed enough can be provided to fill the demand on any occasion.

The parks are provided with playground equipment, which is inspected regularly. Wading pools have been thoroughly cleaned, and will be cleaned and refilled three times weekly.

Picnic Grounds Lighted

The picnic grounds have been wired for lighting and can be used at night. Caretakers are on duty every day except Sunday, and park officials suggest that when the services of the caretakers are needed after 4 p. m. and on Sunday for picnics or reunions that the men be paid a reasonable fee for their time and service. A telephone has been installed at Lincoln park, and any information or arrangements needed may be had by calling 4725.

A new pump has been installed in the fountain in the rock garden on the McKinley park drive, and is now running each evening and Sundays.

A girls' doll house, a gift to the park board from Frank M. Knapp, has been placed in the small children's playground in McKinley park, and its use is restricted to girls under 10 years of age.

The horseshoe courts in McKinley park are in good shape, and the city league is now holding intercity meets there.

5,000 Plants Placed

All park drives have been oiled by the city service department. Since lights have been installed in the Lincoln ball park and on the picnic grounds it will be convenient for families to hold picnic suppers there and leave the small children in the playground during the ball games.

Approximately 5,000 blooming plants, contributed by the Baln florists on the Delaware road and the Marion Cemetery association have been planted and these together with the thousands of shrubs planted during the last several years complete the landscaping in the parks.

Marion citizens are invited to use the parks as often as they desire, Sylvester Larkin, park board secretary, said.

LAW PARTNERSHIP HERE IS SEVERED

Members of the law firm of Clark & Arter today announced the partnership has been dissolved by mutual consent and that C. A. Arter will occupy new law offices at 133 North Main street after July 10. John H. Clark will remain in the office he has occupied for 35 years.

They have been partners since July 1, 1925.

The offices Mr. Arter will take over formerly were occupied by the law firm of Donithen & Michel. Mr. Arter said he will return to Marion to open the new office July 10 after taking a vacation trip.

LET US MAKE YOUR 4TH of JULY TRIP SAFER

BEFORE you start on your holiday trip, let us completely inspect your car. There is no charge for this service and it will assure you of a safer and more enjoyable trip.

For the motoring convenience and safety of car owners Firestone has established more than 500 Auto Supply & Service Stores throughout the country, and thousands of Firestone dealers are also equipped with Auto Supplies and complete Service Departments to test and service your tires, brakes, batteries, spark plugs, wheels, ignition system, carburetor, in addition to lubricating your car with the most modern power equipment, also crank case service, washing and polishing.

AVOID THE DANGER OF BLOWOUTS

Firestone removes the danger of blowouts by preventing their main cause — internal friction and heat. This is accomplished by Gum-Dipping, a patented extra process which soaks every cotton cord and insulates every strand with pure liquid rubber. No other make of tire is Gum-Dipped.

THERE ARE THREE QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS THAT WILL SOLVE YOUR PROBLEM OF WHAT TIRES TO BUY:

1 "Will the tread give me the greatest traction and protection against skidding?"

— Recent tests by a leading University show that Firestone High Speed Non-Skid Tires stop a car 15% quicker than any other of the leading makes.

For eight consecutive years Firestone Tires have been on the winning car in the dangerous Pike's Peak Race where a skid means death. This is undisputed evidence that Firestone gives car owners greatest protection against skidding.

2 "Are they blowout-proof?"

—Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires have the most amazing records for being blowout-proof of any tires ever built. In the gruelling 500-Mile Race at Indianapolis, May 30th, every one of the 33 cars was equipped with Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires. Kelly Petillo won the race and broke the record over this 26-year-old rough brick track without tire trouble—in fact, not one of the 33 drivers had tire trouble of any kind.

Ab Jenkins drove his 5,000 pound car on Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires over the hot salt beds of Utah, 3,000 miles in 23½ hours, at an average speed of 127.2 miles per hour, with temperatures as high as 120°, without tire trouble of any kind. These are most amazing proofs of blowout protection ever known.

3 "Without sacrificing these two important safety features will they give me longer mileage, thus making them the most economical tires I can buy?"

— Firestone High Speed Tires not only give you more than 50% longer wear, but also lowest cost per mile. This is made possible by the tough, wear-resisting tread built with higher shoulders and a wider, flatter contour. This thick, rugged, scientifically designed tread is held securely to the Gum-Dipped cord body by Firestone's patented construction of two extra layers of cords under the tread. This is a special construction feature not used in any other tire. Unequaled mileage records by thousands of car owners add undisputed evidence of the longer wear and greater economy of Firestone High Speed Tires.

Equip your car with a set of Firestone Gum-Dipped Non-Skid Tires, the safest tires ever built and avoid the dangers of skidding and blowouts.

1 University tests show Firestone High Speed Tires stop cars 15 to 25% quicker.
2 Gum-Dipped cords give greater blowout protection. Gum-Dipping is not used in other tires.
3 Wider, flatter tread gives more than 50% longer non-skid wear.

Another delighted mother, Mrs. C. T. Mills, Alexandria, Va., writes —"My girl age 11, was run down and wouldn't eat—had no appetite at all. Even when school closed she was listless and never felt like playing. Finally I decided to start her on Ovaltine—and … gained 6 pounds."

A spurt of activity was noted in Marion markets this week as new produce arrived on the stands and other items thought to have reached their end, showed a revival.

Homegrown strawberries, which dealers predicted would be finished this week are likely to last until Wednesday or Thursday of next week, it was stated Friday. Prices will be low enough for canning and jam-making.

Another item that has staged a comeback, though it will be short-lived, is the Florida grapefruit. They are of excellent quality and are going at five and ten cents each. The larger size are some of the best seen on the market stands this year.

Raspberries Arrive

Red and black raspberries are coming along in good quality and quantity now, dealers report, and are selling around 25 cents a quart. They're from Indiana, Kentucky and southern Ohio.

The sugarloaf pineapples from Spain which recently made their debut will last another week. They are much sweeter than the more common variety, and require half the amount of sugar in canning.

California steamed through this week with excellent quality honeydew melons, and some dandy looking fruity. New shipments of grapes and cherries from the coast were received. And still other items from that territory attracting the attention of shoppers are the Valencia oranges, cantaloupes, head lettuce, blackberries and red raspberries.

Sweet corn from South Carolina promises to stay among the front rank of the best sellers this week by virtue of its extraordinary quality. It's going at around five cents an ear, and worth it, dealers say.

Homegrown Items

The homegrown news of the moment concerns green beans, beets, tomatoes, peas and cherries. The beans are good and priced right for canning, running less than a dollar a bushel at some markets. The first homegrown tomatoes are selling around two pounds for a quarter. The home cherries are backed up on stands beside the large ones from the coast.

Another item attracting the buyers are the new shipments of freestone peaches from way down yonder in Georgia. Quality and reasonable prices are accountable for their popularity.

NEW GAS STATION TO OPEN SATURDAY

Ralph Barnhart and James Fellebaum Will Be in Charge.

The Hickok Oil Co. of Toledo Saturday will open a new automobile service station at North Main and Farming streets. It will be operated under a lease by Ralph Barnhart of 207 Bain avenue and James Fellebaum of 457 North Greenwood street.

It is the fourth new company-owned station opened here by the Hickok company in a period of eight months. Another is scheduled to be built this year on a site not yet announced.

The station will handle, in addition to gasoline, oils and greases, a line of tires, batteries and accessories.

NEW KIND OF STORM.

By International News Service

BOSTON—The west and south have their dust storms and tornadoes, but this city had a milkweed seedling storm which lasted two hours. The seedlings were swept down in the wake of strong winds, causing many a hat and new dress to take on an added decoration.

Make HAPPINESS a Habit

Wouldn't you like to step up the amount of enjoyment you get from life? The knack of keeping fit is largely a matter of regular habits. Your happiness may be hampered by common constipation due to insufficient "bulk" in your meals.

Your grocer has a natural cereal food which corrects this condition. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, eaten regularly, supplies generous "bulk." Also vitamin B and iron.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is gentle—and safe for normal individuals. More effective than the "bulk" in leafy vegetables, as it does not break down within the body.

Two tablespoons daily are usually sufficient. Chronic cases, with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Isn't this natural food much better than taking patent medicines? Get Kellogg's ALL-BRAN at your grocer's. It contains much more "bulk" than part-bran products. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Discovered! Wonderful Jam and Jelly Making Aid

SURE-JELL, amazing new powdered pectin product, actually gives two-thirds more glasses ... Perfect results with any fruit ... Better flavor too!

1 ONLY ½ MINUTE BOIL. No long, laborious boiling with Sure-Jell. Only ½ minute for jellies; one minute for jams. Just think of the time you save! Why, you can actually finish a whole batch of jelly or jam in less than 15 minutes after your fruit is prepared! That's one reason women everywhere are so delighted with this wonderful new pectin product. You'll be delighted, too!

2 TWO-THIRDS MORE JELLY ... Because of that short, ½ minute boil which Sure-Jell makes possible, none of the fruit juice boils away, and you actually get two-thirds more jelly ... as much as 10 glasses from the same amount of juice that gave you only 6 glasses when you used the old-fashioned, "long-boil" way. Just think what a money saving that means to you!

3 PERFECT RESULTS with any fruit; finer flavor, too ... No more worry about failures. Sure-Jell eliminates uncertainty. With this wonderful new powdered pectin product, all fruits jell perfectly. The flavor is much finer, too. Short boiling retains all the natural, fresh-fruit flavor ... the rich flavor of the ripe fruit itself. There is no "boiled-down" taste when you use this amazing new Sure-Jell.

MONEY BACK OFFER!

Buy two packages of Sure-Jell. Use one. If it does not do all we claim for it, just take the other package back to your grocer. He will refund the full price of both packages.

BANK MEASURE NEARLY READY

Glass Committee To Report Bill Monday, Includes Control of Credit

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON June 28—Sen Glass banking sub-committee has practically agreed on all main points of the credit control section of the administration's long disputed omnibus banking bill.

The Virginia Democrat so advised the senate yesterday after congressional action had been completed on a resolution extending for 60 days the temporary guarantee of bank deposits up to $5,000 which would have expired Sunday night. His statement led to predictions of early enactment of the big bill in some form.

Terms of the committee agreement were not disclosed. Glass merely said his group which has been considering the legislation for two months would report to the full banking committee Monday. The credit control section would give the federal reserve system control over credit policies.

The 60-day extension of temporary deposit insurance will prevent a permanent insurance plan from going into effect next Monday. This would have provided for full insurance up to $10,000 and partial insurance on deposits above that amount. It also would have allowed unlimited assessment of banks for membership in the guaranty fund.

The omnibus banking bill would make permanent the existing temporary insurance provisions with some changes. It provides for an assessment of one twelfth of one per cent of total deposits instead of one half of one per cent of insurable deposits cessation of assessment when the insurance fund reaches $500,000,000 and resumption when the fund is impaired 15 per cent.

The senate voted for a one year extension of the temporary deposit provisions but house leaders would agree to only 60 days so as to prevent further delay of the omnibus bill.

SOCIETY ARRANGES ICE CREAM SOCIAL

An ice cream social July 18 on the church lawn was arranged for at a meeting of the Ladies Aid society of the First Reformed church Thursday afternoon with Mrs Walter Zieg of Pearl street. Mrs Harry Zieg was in charge of the meeting. Refreshments were served. Guests were Mrs Clara Almendinger, Mrs Walter Bailey, Mrs J C Nedds and Mrs Catherine Coedicke. A meeting will be held July 25 with Mrs Royal Andrews of South High street.

12 SCOUTS APPROVED FOR U. S. JAMBOREE

Nine Other Applications Received for Action Later Meeting in Bucyrus

[illegible]

The twelve who have been approved [illegible] are James Ed[illegible] and John He[illegible] [illegible] Robert Nease of troop 3, Raymond Huds, Frank [illegible]ann, Jack Hensel and Robert [illegible] of troop 7, Bert [illegible] Sea scout Ship President Harding, Robert Loveland and Clifton Weltz of Troop 10, Marion; Bruce Knoblock, Troop 29 [illegible] Eugene Smiley, Troop M Cardington; Maurice Breese, Troop 27 Mt Gilead.

Frank H Knapp chairman of the area jamboree committee announced that applications will be received up to July 21 for participation in the jamboree. Scouts other than those of the first class can only apply if they have had sufficient training and experience, Mr Knapp announced.

Dr Frank R Mann chairman of the camping committee announced the completion of plans for the summer season at Camp John A Owens and reported on the employment of the staff. The staff will be composed of Scout Executive Arthur S Brooks as camp director, Edmund Hesser of Newport Ky as waterfront director and James Rhinebarger of Cardington as chef and mess sergeant. A junior staff of from six to eight older scouts will be named.

Dr Mann stressed the excellent condition of the camp following the erection of a new spring house and new sanitary outhouses. He also stressed the need for completing the assembly lodge which was partly rebuilt two years ago. The camp season opens July 1.

Scout Commissioner F C Browne of Marion presided at the board meeting and F C Oppenlander field commissioner of the Crawford district welcomed the visiting scouters. The board will meet again July 21 at Camp Owens for a family picnic supper.

BRICKER PLEADS FOR STATE CRIME BUREAU

Points to Work of Federal Agents in Curbing Kidnaping Wave in U S

By International News Service

COLUMBUS O — The brilliant work of the federal G men in cleaning up recent kidnaping cases is the most convincing argument to be found in favor of a strictly non political bureau of criminal investigation in Ohio in the opinion of Attorney General John W Bricker.

Bricker who for more than two years has advocated establishing such a bureau in Ohio characterized kidnaping as one of the stupidest of crimes. Under the present setup he said the odds are perhaps stronger against the culprits than in almost any other type of crime. This is particularly true where ransom money is paid. Where records of the serial numbers of bills are broadcast to banks and business houses throughout the land and currency becomes a millstone about the neck of the criminal.

The federal investigators have demonstrated the feasibility of a crime hunting agency unhampered by state lines. With their jurisdiction extended to over the entire country they are in position to strike wherever and whenever the criminals appear.

Experience has shown that the federal men work in close harmony with state and local agencies. An outstanding example was the running down of Pretty Boy Floyd right here in Ohio with the Ohio authorities working in close cooperation with the federals. The result was highly gratifying.

The need for an agency in Ohio modeled after the federal organization is obvious. County officials would find such a group of inestimable value in running down criminals who in these modern days find it easy to be beyond the reach of a county sheriff or a city chief of police within a comparatively short time.

I regret that the legislature saw fit to sidetrack legislation proposing such a bureau of investigation in Ohio. I shall however continue to advocate its establishment. But when and if it is established it should be put beyond the reach of political pressure and influence. It should be guided by intelligence rather than by political caprice.

DOMESTIC HATCHING OF GAME STARTED

Scouts To Collect Eggs and Chickens Raise Young Birds

By International News Service

COLUMBUS O — Seeking to save young game birds from destruction during the harvest season the state conservation council and Boy Scouts have undertaken a hatchery program, Lawrence Wooddell state conservation director announced.

Scouts working under game wardens in nine central Ohio counties will comb the hay and grain fields on farms in their areas to collect eggs of quail pheasants and partridge and draft hens in their chicken flocks to raise the young birds.

Counties included in the area where this program will be tested are Delaware, Pickaway, Franklin, Union, Madison, Fayette, Fairfield, Hocking and Ross.

There will be profit for the successful young game bird hatcher, Wooddell revealed.

For the state will pay 25 cents for each pheasant and partridge raised to the age of four weeks and 40 cents each for birds raised to the age of six weeks. The feed required for them accounts for the difference in bounty, conservation officials said.

The program has already been tested on a small scale in Wood county.

In 10 acres of alfalfa in Wood county 12 pheasant nests averaging from 10 to 14 eggs each were uncovered by a mowing machine and one cock bird and four hens were maimed or killed, Wooddell stated.

Mowing operations of the state highway department will be confined to weeds close to the berm to ward against disturbing nests. The young birds will leave the nests about July 10, conservation officials said.

Location of the fairgrounds within the city limits of Ottawa and the exceptionally good track are in Ottawa's favor he contended.

PREMIER BOUND TO FIGHT

Will Tell League Ethiopia 'Unfit' and Demand an Italian Protectorate

(Copyright 1935)

By The Associated Press

LONDON June 28—On the [illegible] anniversary of the assassination of Archduke Franz Ferdinand at Sarajevo—the shot which [illegible] the World war—Great Britain suffered a setback in her [illegible] as peacemaker.

Her traveling salesman of peace Capt Anthony Eden was [illegible] from his continental tour today bearing a report on the avowed intention of Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy to war against Ethiopia in east Africa.

Before reporting to a cabinet meeting the only comment of the young secretary for League of Nations affairs concerning European security negotiations was "It is on the knees of the Gods."

Study Other Problems

Although the Italo-Ethiopian crisis relegated other questions of European security to the background the British diplomats discussed four other prospective moves on the chessboard of world peace.

These were for an eastern European pact, a Danubian treaty, an air Locarno and land disarmament.

Concerning his attempts to dissuade il duce from an African campaign it was understood Capt Eden would tell his colleagues:

1 Mussolini stood adamant against any solution of the Italo Ethiopian dispute other than conquest of the east African empire.

2 Any attempt at Geneva to interfere with that plan would lead to a prompt withdrawal by Italy from the League of Nations.

Capt Eden was understood to have outlined Mussolini's reputed plan of action thus:

Will Label Ethiopians Unfit

An arraignment of Ethiopia before the league tribunal as unfit to belong at Geneva or to claim the league's protection would be followed by a demand for an Italian protectorate over the empire.

With that course of procedure failing Italy would invade Ethiopia to effect a complete solution of the border dispute by force.

Despite the foreshadowed failure on his mission to Rome on the Ethiopian question Eden was considered to have achieved considerable success in his talks both

"VENDOL" ENDED MAR
TAKING SODA AFTER

Was victim of acid indigestion, kidneys were weak and was in a general bilious condition. Says new medicine VENDOL gave marvelous relief.

Before I started on Vendol a few weeks ago my stomach was in a bad condition as I was suffering from acid indigestion and the many symptoms his produced, said Mr Edgar L Jones of 306 Edwards street, Marion.

Nothing I ate seemed to digest properly but would turn sour and cause acid risings to come up into my throat. This condition brought on heartburn and made my breath come short. About the only thing that would relieve this was baking soda and I certainly took quantities of it. After a while it seemed that soda no longer helped this condition.

So many people were praising Vendol that I decided to try this medicine and it certainly has proven satisfactory in my case. I can now eat many things that I could not before yet I am no longer bothered with acid risings or heartburn and taking soda is a thing of the past.
